

Cliffnotes April 2010

A note from Bo ...

To serve our church
 To serve our community
 To serve the world at large

I bet I have used some variation of that phrase at least a million times since I have been here at St. Peter. Some people can probably recite it by heart. Others are probably thinking "not again." But to some degree, that's a good thing because it has become a part of who we are and when people ask about the student ministry and what some of our core principles are, we have an answer. We are about serving.

Looking at this summer coming up I'm excited that we once again have a large group of students joining me on a new and exciting adventure. Taking the things we believe and living them out in the communities we will be serving. Passionately striving to make a difference in the lives of people as God continues to work within our lives.

This summer will see us traveling to New Orleans in June to work in the upper 9th ward where work is still underway after the disastrous flooding that occurred during Hurricane Katrina and subsequent failings of the levees. Gutting destroyed homes and rebuilding new ones will be our objective to help get people back into their very own home. Hot, humid, and dirty conditions tend to put a smile on our faces.

Later in July, another group of us will be heading to Brooklyn to work with various agencies within the inner-city. Soup kitchens, nursing homes, community projects, and so forth will fill our days. We will literally be hands on in the lives of hundreds of people.

And that is just the beginning. Whether the summer or anytime during the year, you are going to find us at work impacting people's lives. So let me invite you to join along. Make that first step and become the hands and feet of Jesus to a world that so badly needs it.

Peace,
 Bo
